

Why you should see a Chiropractor?

The study from the Ontario Ministry of Health concluded that the approaches employed by Chiropractic doctors were more effective than traditional forms of treatment for lower back pain

The commissioned report by the government of New Zealand recommended that steps be taken to ensure chiropractors be included as partners in the general health care team.

Chiropractors have had more thorough training in spine mechanic and spinal manual therapy than any other healthier professional (New Zealand Report).

Chiropractic aids in allowing the body to heal itself in the most natural ways without the use of harmful or unnecessary drugs.

Your Chiropractic doctor has a minimum of seven years of medical/Chiropractic training

Your Chiropractor swore to uphold an oath, part of which reads, "to keep the physical mental and spiritual needs of the sick as their foremost duty."
